

Seven Behaviors of Successful Patrol Leaders

A committed Patrol Leader works to:

1. Listening:

To listen to the ideas the Patrol and use their ideas to help get and develop new ideas to better our Patrol

2. Questioning:

To ask questions in order to help the Patrol figure out what to do and to extend their thinking.

3. Persuading:

To exchange ideas, explain ideas and openly discuss ideas with Patrol

4. Respecting:

To respect the opinions of the members of the Patrol. To offer encouragement and support for new ideas and efforts.

5. Helping:

To help the Patrol remember that A Scout is Helpful, and to be available to help whenever needed.

6. Sharing:

To share with the Patrol. To make sure to share ideas and thinking. To share the work and any rewards and recognition.

7. Participating:

To contribute to the Patrol assignment. To be actively involved with all work.
